

Puig unveils intense and light rose fragrance inspired by jewelry

By Hibah Noor on February, 9 2016 | Fragrances, Cosmetics, Skincare & Haircare

Fragrance house Puig has launched L'Extase Caresse de Roses Eau de Parfum Légère from Nina Ricci.

Described as intense and light, the new musky floral fragrance is a line extension of the floral oriental L'Extase edp, composed by Francis Kurkdjian and launched in 2015.

The new Eau de Parfum Légère is inspired by the emblematic Calisto bracelet, conceived by Guillaume Henry for his first ready-to-wear Nina Ricci collection. The bottle is laced with gold chains.

The juice contains Bulgarian rose essence and rose absolute Turkish whisper, along with the delicate freshness of peony and violet notes. Breath of musk results in a sensual scent.

The face of the product is French actress Laetitia Casta.

The travel retail range comprises 100ml, 50ml and 30ml sizes.

This product is available in all travel retail regions (Americas, Europe, Middle East and Asia Pacific) and is on-counter now.