Glenfiddich unveils TREX limited-edition whisky in partnership with Aston Martin F1 Team

The Glenfiddich 19-Year-Old Single Malt Scotch Whisky (ABV 43%) will be available exclusively in select global travel retail locations from September 2025 (RRP £130/US$175)

Glenfiddich has unveiled a global travel retail exclusive bottling, Glenfiddich 19-Year-Old Single Malt Scotch Whisky, crafted to honor year one of a multi-year partnership with the Aston Martin Formula One Team.

This limited-edition release embodies the values of precision, complexity, and refinement shared by both Glenfiddich and Aston Martin.

The Glenfiddich 19-Year-Old is matured in hand-selected American and European oak casks, with an unmistakable sweet spice from Montilla wine casks. This distinctive combination creates a whisky that is both vibrant and complex, offering a rich array of flavors. Notes of Seville oranges and warm, woody spices unfold to reveal a whisky that pushes the boundaries of craftsmanship and sophistication.

Copyright DutyFree Magazine. All rights reserved.

"At Glenfiddich, our dedication to excellence drives us to continuously refine our craft. The Glenfiddich 19-Year-Old is a whisky that showcases the perfect blend of tradition and innovation, drawing inspiration from the same precision andintuition that defines the Aston Martin Formula One™ Team. It's a whisky that challenges the limits of complexity and refinement, making it a true reflection of both our heritage and the future," says Brian Kinsman, Malt Master at Glenfiddich.

The Speyside distillery announced a historic long-term partnership with the Aston Martin Formula One Team in November 2024 – bringing together two timeless brands renowned for their heritage, innovation, and relentless pursuit of excellence. The partnership launched at the Las Vegas Grand Prix, where Glenfiddich and the Aston Martin Formula One Team toasted this new collaboration which celebrates mastery and design.

"We are thrilled to unveil this limited edition bottling in celebration of our partnership with Aston Martin Formula One™ Team. Through this collaboration we invite enthusiasts worldwide to engage with these two iconic brands in bold new ways and create memorable moments that reach far beyond the racetrack. This limited-edition bottling is just the beginning as we continue to write the next chapter together," adds Claudia Falcone, Global Brand Director at Glenfiddich.

The Glenfiddich 19-Year-Old Single Malt Scotch Whisky (ABV 43%) will be available exclusively in select global travel retail locations from September 2025 (RRP £130/US$175).

Copyright DutyFree Magazine. All rights reserved.