

Jewel Changi Airport to open on April 17

Visitors can get up close and personal with the majestic Rain Vortex in Jewel Changi Airport. Image credit: Jewel Changi Airport Devt

Jewel Changi Airport is designed by renowned architect Moshe Safdie, as well as architects from RSP Architects Planners and Engineers and Benoy. Image credit: Jewel Changi Airport Devt

Changi Airport Group (CAG) has announced that Jewel Changi Airport (Jewel) will open its doors on April 17.

The multi-dimensional lifestyle destination developed by CAG and Capitaland counts brands such as Nike, Marks & Spencer, MUJI, ZARA, UNIQLO, Shaw Theatres with IMAX and supermarket Fairprice Finest as its anchor tenants. Jewel's Nike store will be the largest one in Southeast Asia, while Fairprice Finest will have unique features such as exclusive products and specially curated sections and event areas. Five Spice, the food court operated by Food Junction, will also feature over 10 local brands, such as Faai Di by Ka-Soh and Fu Lin Yong Tofu, which have more than 20 years of culinary heritage.

Jewel Changi Airport preview

Singapore residents will get to enjoy a preview of Jewel before its public opening. From 11 - 16 April, Jewel will be giving away 500,000 free tickets for those who register on jewelpreview.com Registration will open online on 12 March, 06:00 am and each member of the public can register for up to four participants.

During the preview, visitors can explore various points of interest in Jewel, such as four-storey Forest Valley with two walking trails and take in the magnificent 40-metre Rain Vortex, the world's tallest indoor waterfall. They will also be able to shop and dine at more than 90% of Jewel's 280 shopping and dining outlets.