

Diesel takes over fashion store window at Hamad International Airport

By Jas Ryat on December, 19 2016 | Fashion, Bags & Accessories

Diesel has announced a collaboration with Qatar Duty Free at Hamad International Airport.

In October, the Italian denim brand became a style partner of AC Milan for dressing off the field for the next three years. The football team plans to fly to Doha to unveil their new uniforms to the world on December 23 during a match between AC Milan and Juventus FC for the Italian Super Cup.

The team will wear Diesel's Jogg Jeans, available at the Junction Fashion store at Hamad International Airport.

Diesel took over Junction Fashion window on December 12 to present AC Milan's uniforms and to give Diesel customers a chance to win a ticket to the big match.