

Accolade Wines' Da Luca now available in World Duty Free Shops

By Wendy Morley on September, 2 2015 | Spirits & Tobacco

Accolade Wines proudly announced that as of August 26th, its award-winning wine brand Da Luca will be available in World Duty Free shops in select airports. This sparkling wine has long been a favorite, noted for its crisp and refreshing taste as well as the subtle hints of nectarine and peach.

For travelers who want to save a little money, Da Luca Prosecco will be available in September and early October for a discounted price. Accolade is offering this promotion for the next several weeks. Despite its affordable price, Da Luca just won the D&AD award, which is a perfect way to start its foray in the World Duty Free retail market.

Rupert Firbank, Commercial Director of Accolade Wines, said, "We are delighted that Da Luca Prosecco is now listed with World Duty Free. Da Luca Prosecco offers travelers an affordable, attractive option when it comes to sparkling wine; one that is perfect for gifting or celebrating.”
