The open concept boutique will be a permanent fixture at Qatar Airways' home and hub, HIA and will showcase ladies and men's watches, spanning across sports, lifestyle and heritage ranges.

Qatar Duty Free Senior Vice President, Bruce Bowman, said: "We try to ensure that all passengers travelling through HIA have access to QDF's award-winning portfolio of brands and concepts, regardless of which gate they depart from. We have enjoyed a successful relationship with TAG Heuer at HIA since the airport opened in 2014 and we are very pleased to launch the second TAG Heuer boutique in the rising North Retail Plaza."

TAG Heuer Brand Director for the Middle East, Paul Boissonnet, said: "We're delighted to open our second boutique at Hamad International Airport with our long term partner, Qatar Duty Free. Being able to expand TAG Heuer's presence in the Middle East, particularly in Qatar, is not something we take for granted and we take great pride in the relationship that we have built over the years with Qatar Duty Free. This new opening demonstrates our common will to strengthen TAG Heuer's commitment to the Middle East, and ensures that visitors are able to easily access the best from the world of precision timekeeping."

QDF was recently named 'Airport Retail Operation of the Year' serving more than 30 million passengers annually at the DFNI-Frontier EMEA Awards 2019.

One of the largest duty free offers in the world, QDF boasts more than 90 elegant boutiques and retail outlets, as well as more than 30 restaurants and cafés at Hamad International Airport.
